FUN JUST BEGUN.

Senator McLaurin Intimates That There is Diversion Ahead.

Washington, June 10.—Senator McLaurin, who has just returned from South Carolina, was a caller at the White House this morning. He declined to discuss the political situation in the Palmetto State and his controversy with Senator Tillman further than to say that he proposed to continue the same line of action which he had been following for some time. He intimated that the fight was not yet over; in fact, that it was only just beginning. He would not, however, state what he intended to do, because it would give his opponents an advantage which he did not wish to allow them.

When asked concerning Senator Tillman individually, Senator McLaurin said: "He has called me a manly dog, and there the matter rests. That was his first argument and it is his last. I must decline to discuss his attitude."

Senator McLaurin said that he has business in Washington at present in the interest of the Charleston and West Indian Exposition, which begins in Charleston in December. The government has agreed, in view of the fact that an appropriation was made by Congress, for the exposition to loan a portion of the exhibit at Buffalo, if the Charleston people provide a suitable building. This they intend to do. The matter of allowing certain goods which came in bonded for the Pan-American Exposition and which the Charleston directors wish to secure, is still unsettled. Secretary Gage has the question under consideration at present. If there is found to be no legal hindrance some of these goods, especially those from the West India and Central American countries, will be permitted to go to Charleston.

NARROW ESCAPE.

Small Boy Has a Close Shave for His Life at the Depot Today.

A small boy, walking carelessly along the platform at the Southern depot at noon today, had a narrow escape from death. A shifting engine was backing towards the west, and the boy was walking in the same direction. The engine bell was ringing, but the boy seemingly did not hear it, and was only warned by the shouts of a bystander, and the friendly hand of the man on the rear of the tender who reached out to shove him away before the engine should strike him. He did not seem scared at all by his narrow escape, but continued unconcernedly on his way.

M'KINLEY WANTS NO THIRD TERM.

MAKES A PERSONAL STATEMENT

SAYS THAT HE DOES NOT WANT IT AND WOULDN'T HAVE IT.

Holds A Long Formed Purpose to Retire to Private Life When His Second Term is up—Great Interests of Administration and Country now at Hand.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Washington, June 11.—

The following personal statement from the President was given out at the White House today:

"I regret that the suggestion of a third term has been made. I doubt whether I am called upon to give it notice.

"But there are now questions of the gravest importance before the administration and the country, and their just consideration should not be prejudiced in the public mind by even the suspicion of a thought of a third term. In view, therefore, of the reiteration of a suggestion of it, I will say now, once for all, expressing a long settled conviction, that not only I am not and will not be a candidate for a third term, but would not accept the nomination for it if it were tendered me. My ambition is to serve through my second term to the acceptance of my countrymen, whose generous confidence in me is so deeply appreciated, and then with them to do my duty in the ranks of private citizenship.

"William McKinley, "Executive Mansion, "Washington, D. C., June 10th, 1901."

ONE PISTOL FOR TWO.

A Man and Wife Found Dead in Bed in a Chicago Hotel.

Chicago, June 10.—Side by side, each with a bullet wound in the temple, the dead bodies of L. Hartman and his wife were found in their bed at the Great Northern Hotel, this evening. The room showed no evidences of a struggle, the covering of the bed well tucked about him, but the revolver clutched in the right hand of the husband told the story of the double tragedy. Of the pair that courted death so successfully nothing is known by the managers of the hotel, beyond a report that the man has wealthy connections in New York, and that the woman apparently was once an actress under the stage name of Rose Violet. From information given by a woman who inquired for them this morning, it is supposed that the case is one of a runaway marriage with death as the result of despondency over the obduracy of an unforgiving father.

Hartman and his wife registered at the hotel on June 6, giving as their address New York. Both were stylishly dressed, and appeared to be persons of means. They did not mingle with the other guests and spent most of the time in their rooms. They were reserved in manner, but it is surmised that they were on their wedding trip. Early Sunday night they retired to their apartments and nothing was seen of them until this evening, when they were found dead in bed. The chambermaid tried to gain entrance to the room but was unable to do so. Later in the day she repeated the attempt with the same result. Repeated knockings failed to obtain an answer, and the hotel office being notified, the room was broken into tonight, and the discovery was made of the double tragedy.

Several Wrong Doers.

The mayor had several cases yesterday afternoon at his matinee. Two carriage drivers were made to disgorge, because they went off, leaving their teams in the street. The liquor cases growing out of the arrests on Sunday were dismissed, the crippled negro, Wharton, being warned that if he was again caught he would be sent to the poor house. A white man from near Jamestown was fined a small amount for being drunk and down.

Sample Cups of Coffee.

The Sculls Perfect Coffee Company have an exhibit of their coffee in the store of Messrs J. W. Scott & Company. The exhibit is in charge of Mrs. DeWitt and she takes a deal of pleasure in serving coffee to any person who likes the drink. The coffee she makes is very fine, and well worth a trial.

A handsome thermometer has been placed in front of the store of J. W. Scott & Co. It is an advertisement of the Santiago Cigar, and is a good thing on a hot day.

NOT RESPONSIBLE.College Girl Who Robbed Students Declared Insane—Her Life Exemplary and Her Class Standing High.

Northampton, Mass., June 9.—Two prominent physicians in this section of the State have reported that Miss Mabel L. Burt, of Bridgeton, N. J., a former Smith College student, who is under arrest in the county jail on the charge of larceny of money, watches, and jewelry to the amount of $5,000 in the room of the students of Smith College, is suffering from mental derangement, and should receive treatment. Dr. Mary Brewster, physician at Smith College, visited the girl last night and again today, and she reported finding her in such a condition mentally that she expressed a desire that Dr. Hansen, the woman physician at the State Insane Asylum, be called into the case.

Dr. Hansen, after making a careful investigation expressed the opinion that the girl is suffering from mental derangement and should receive immediate treatment.

Mr. Bert spoke tonight of the nervous and impulsive character of his daughter, and said she could not be in her right mind and commit the crime she is accused of. He said her life had been an exemplary one while at home. She was a bright scholar, and was valedictorian of her class when she graduated from the high school.

One of the physicians who saw Miss Burt today expressed the opinion that her nerves had been unstrung to such a degree that it had affected her mind to the extent that she had lost control of her actions at times. The statements of experts will be certified to before Judge Bassett, of the Probate Court, and then submitted to the grand jury, which meets tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Burt spent several hours today with their daughter in the Hampshire County jail.

Headless Body of Woman.

Lowell, Mass., June 10.—The headless and decomposed body of a young woman was found under a heap of brush in a patch of woodland in Chelmsford this afternoon. Murder had been committed in a horrible fashion, for the head had been separated from the trunk by a series of slashes with a dull weapon.

The meager clothing afforded no clew to the identity of the unfortunate, and the circumstances offer a case of interest outside rather than in the direct community, as the theory quickly set up is that the body had been taken into the woods and thrown in a spot that offered some seclusion.

A physician, on viewing the body, thought it had lain in the place where it was found for four or five weeks. To morrow the entire neighborhood will be looked over, in hope of finding the woman's head. Whether or not there were body wounds remains to be shown by examination. An abrasion near the heart may have been fatal. One of the men who assisted in removing the body concluded that it was from a bullet.

The police know of no missing woman in Lowell or neighboring towns.

Bank's Stolen Gold Recovered.

Mineral Point, Wis., June 10.—Thirteen thousand dollars more of the gold coin stolen from the First National Bank of this place on May 24 has been recovered. It was found in the vault of an out house of the City Hotel, about a block from the looted bank, at which the prisoner, Steward Jelleff, boarded.

It is believed that the detectives obtained information as to the hiding place of the coin from the prisoner, one containing $9,600 and the other containing $1,000 each. This find and the $8,000 previously recovered, comprises all the gold missing from the bank. The balance, $5,000, is in currency and the detectives hope to recover it later.

A Nation of Farmers.

Philadelphia Record.

Still we are a nation of farmers. Incomplete census returns show that in 1900 there were 5,700,000 farms under cultivation as compared with 4,564,691 in 1890. This may be deemed a remarkable increase, showing that the growth of our industries in symmetrical, the farmers keep pace in the march forward. The single discouraging feature of the situation is the increase of tenant farming. This is accounted for, however, to some extent by the lease of lands by immigrants who are intending purchasers. As the area of uncultivated arable adds wkwwk area of uncultivated arable lands in the United States becomes less and less it is altogether probable that future censuses of the country will show a comparative decline in the number of farms.

The diseases most feared are those which are inherited—handed down from generation to generation, and family to family. By far the most destructive of these is Cancer, which finds the greatest number of its victims among the children and grand-children of those whose blood was tainted with this dreadful malady. You may carry this poison in the blood for years, but as the vital powers begin to wane a slight bruise or cut, wart or mole, sore or pimple may develop into Cancer. From middle life to old age is the time when the slumbering poison is most apt to break out, a sore or ulcer often degenerating into Cancer, and Tumors become more progressive and ulcerate through the skin, the sharp, shooting pains causing the most intense suffering.

The Cancer patient naturally grows despondent as one after another the usual remedies fail, and the sore shows no sign of healing. The impurities that have been accumulating in the system, perhaps for generations, cannot be eliminated nor the poisoned blood made pure by salves, washes and plasters. The proper treatment is to purify and build up the blood, remove the cause, when the sore or ulcer heals.

Mr. J. B. Arnold, of Greenwood, S. C., writes: "A tiny ulcer came, just under the left eye. It began spreading, and grew worse rapidly, destroying the flesh as it went. As Cancer is hereditary in my family I became thoroughly alarmed, consulting the best physicians and taking many blood medicines, none of which did me any good, when one of our leading druggists advised me to try S. S. S., and by the time I had taken the second bottle the Cancer began to show signs of healing, the discharge grew gradually less and finally ceased altogether, the sore dried up and nothing remains but a slight scar. I feel that I owe my life to S. S. S."

wait until the blood is so polluted and the system so thoroughly saturated with the poison that no medicine, however efficacious, can check the progress of the disease. If there is a taint in your blood get it out at once, don't wait for some external evidence of it, the appearance of a tumor or ulcer. We have prepared a special book on Cancer which we will mail free. Our physicians are ready to help you by their advice and such direction as your case requires. TUESDAY, JUNE 11.

The school board are to be commended for their discretion in the selection of teachers for the public schools of the city. It is safe to say that their action last night could not be improved upon.

The Mooresville correspondent of the Charlotte Observer, in a recent dispatch, says:

A young student of the Deaf, Dumb, and Blind Institution, at Raleigh, lectured at the Baptist church last night. To the average reader it would appear, from the article quoted, that the student was possessed with all three of the afflictions mentioned in the name of the institution. If this be true, it seems passing strange that a deaf mute, who could not see, should be able to deliver a lecture.

"North Carolina has been conservative in the past because conditions demanded it. Henceforth, untrammelled by oppressive social conditions and leaping forward in the freedom of general education, let any one of her citizens speak whatever thought God puts into his mind to conceive."

Who said that? Why Governor Aycock, "straight" Democrat, one who has not been accused of being a Republican or a subsidized Democrat. The Governor used those words in his remarks while awarding the degrees at the late commencement at the University. Is it not warrant enough for those who do not desire to take their opinions ready made from the politicians, and is it not enough to make the cloquers quite stigmatizing the purpose of such men as take the Governor's advice and speak the thoughts that are in them?

AN APPROPRIATE PLACE.

Washington Post.

The superintendent of schools who advocates a badge to be worn by those children who are guilty of absenteeism, has succeeded in suggesting a most appropriate place for the profile of Admiral Sampson.

CONFERRING DEGREES.

The question of the conferring of degrees by colleges is one that is likely to be reopened by recent events. Perhaps a good many have been given by the college's this year that will be subject of remark. Colleges have too often so placed their honors as to make it appear that they were more the stock and trade of the institution than that they were a meritorious reward for scholarship bestowed without prejudice upon those men who deserved them. And this has given rise to the contempt in which these titles are largely held. Who can't be some kind of doctor now? And even when these degrees are bestowed with no unworthy motives it too often happens that they are given carelessly or in bursts of generosity likely to fall upon men in giving away that which costs them nothing.

These remarks were suggested by the late act of Trinity College by which Governor Aycock and Senator Simmons have become LL. D's. If either of these gentlemen is the man we think he is he does not relish the title because he knows it means nothing. If "doctor of law" means anything it should convey the idea that its possessor is especially learned in the law, much above his fellows, and when two men are thus singled out and created doctors it means either that they are distinguished above all the other students of the law as worthy of special honor. No one has ever heard of either Mr. Simmons or Mr. Aycock as pre-eminent in any respect aside from politics. If they have title, therefore, it should be D. P.—doctor of politics. We say this, not in any disrespect to either of these gentlemen. They may be ever so clever as public men and patriotic citizens, but they are pre-eminent in the knowledge of law, and a title which means that they are, if it means anything, has been given to them for other reasons. That is why it is said that they probably do not themselves relish their new appellations.

ADVERTISING COMMENT.

By THE HUSTLER.

Messrs. Merritt, Johnson & Co. have succeeded the firm of Merritt, Brower & Co., in the clothing business on South Elm street and will continue business at the same stand. Mr. Brower withdrawing from the firm. While too much cannot be said in behalf of the new firm the members of which are well known and progressive business men, we shall hope that Mr. Brower may again enter business in our midst, as we have always found him a most affable and courteous gentleman.

Messrs. Murray Brothers are offering something unique and especially useful at this season, in fact all seasons, in the way of Health Policies. See ad today.

It's a shiny time with Ward this week. At least it looks that way. The shoes are shiny, the windows are shiny and the tables are full of shiny patent leather and enamel shoes marked in shiny prices. Read their big ad.

The merit of the "Perfect Brand" coffee is still being demonstrated daily at the store of Messrs. J. W. Scott & Co's. When housekeepers once try this brand of coffee something of the other kind will hardly be good enough.

Fresh garden seeds and the kind that needs to be planted now are being offered by Mr. Howard Gardner at the same old stand on the corner.

Two Soldiers Die of Poison.

Augusta, Ga., June 9.—A despatch to the Chronicle from Beaufort, S. C. says that the deaths of Privates Wright and Easterling, which occurred there on last Tuesday and Wednesday at Fort Fremont, are being investigated. Both men belonged to the artillery garrison at the fort. Wright was taken violently ill on Monday after drinking some kind of bitters secured from a negro who conducted a "blind tiger" on St. Helena Island, near the post, and died in a few hours in agony.

Easterling was one of the squad composing the military escort which accompanied the remains of Wright to Beaufort for interment in the National Military Cemetery. It is said that he remarked on that occasion that he did not credit the theory that his comrade had died from the effects of the bitters and on his return to the fort he drank freely of the liquor that had killed his friend. Easterling was attacked with convulsions soon after drinking the alleged bitters, and the post surgeon is reported to have said that in all his long service in the arm he never witnessed such intense suffering as the soldier underwent. Death ended the man's agony in a few hours and his remains were brought to Beaufort for interment in the National Cemetery on the day following the funeral of Wright. Today it is said that another member of the garrison at Fort Fremont is ill with little hope of recovery.

It is thought that a plot to kill certain of the soldiers by poisoning has been formed by some of the negroes who live near the fort, some of whom allege that military men have been ill treating them.

Took Poison Woman Rejected.

Detroit, Mich., June 9.—Herbert Bonslett, aged twenty-eight years and married, tonight lured Teresa Darowski, aged about twenty years, into a Larned street saloon, and after offering her a drink, which the police believe was poisoned, but which she refused, shot her several times in the neck. The girl is in the hospital and may recover. After shooting the girl Bonslett swallowed the poison drink and died shortly afterward. The police say he was a man of dissolute habits, and allege that the girl has been his mistress. They had quarrelled and it was only by promising the girl money that Bonslett succeeded in getting her to come to the saloon, where he was waiting to kill her.

The women may look at a wicked man with horror, but there are a lot of good men that they never look at at all.

THEY ARE GUILTY SAYS JURY.

HOWARD AND HAWLEY GET 10 YEARS EACH, DALEY GETS 7.

The Close of the Most Interesting Trial Held in Greensboro for Many Years—Prisoners Take Sentence Calmly—Give Notice of Appeal—Daley the Scape Goat—Why the Jury Stayed out so Long.

As announced in yesterday's Telegram, when the paper went to press the judge was delivering his charge to the jury in the gold brick case. The charge was an able one, and covered the ground thoroughly. The jury was out about an hour, and returned a verdict of guilty. The judge then announced that sentence would be passed upon the defendants the following morning. Many eyes were bent upon the prisoners as the verdict of the jury was rendered, but if they were at all impressed by the verdict, they failed to show it in their faces.

This morning at half past nine o'clock, crowds began to throng the court room, and when the Judge entered a large concourse was in attendance. Mr. Gilmore, of the counsel for the defense asked that the verdict be set aside. The motion was denied as was a motion for a new trial.

Notice of appeal was then served, and an appeal bond was fixed in the sum of $50.00, and the defendants given fifty days in which to appeal their case. The State was given thirty days thereafter to serve counter case.

Upon inquiry of the Judge as to whether the defendants had anything to say before the passing of sentence, Mr. Gilmore made a short speech citing the holdings of the Supreme Court in regard to conspiracies. Col. Barringer also made a few remarks in behalf of Hawley, the assayer. Sheriff Jordan stated that without prejudice to the other prisoners, he wished to state that Daley had been one of the best prisoners he had ever known, and that he obeyed the slightest wish of the jailers.

Solicitor Brooks reviewed briefly the history of the prisoners as far as it is known, showing that they had victimized and tried to victimize others, some of them being residents of North Carolina. He also stated that Thompson had served a term in a penitentiary for an offense similar to the one under which he was convicted, and that he was probably one of the most noted crooks in the country. In the concluding portion of his speech he expressed the hope that the sentence the prisoners received might be to them an object lesson, and that as they were young men that when they had served their sentences and were at liberty they would become good citizens. Judge John Gray Bynum and Mr. R. R. King made short talks. Judge Bynum thought that heresay ought not to be considered in the sentencing of the defendants in this case. The Judge remarked that there was enough in this case to punish them for, without any heresay.

The sentences were then read as follows:

Howard, alias Thompson, 10 years in the penitentiary, and Hawley 10 years in the penitentiary. Daley was given a sentence of 7 years in the penitentiary, because as the Judge expressed it, "he seems to have been a scape goat for the others, and because of his good behavior in jail."

The defendants filed exceptions to the sentence. Pending an appeal the defendants asked for bail, and His Honor admitted them to bond in the sum of $5,000 each for Howard and Hawley, and $3,000 for Daley. The prisoners were then remanded to jail.

The defendants took their sentences coolly. Howard being the only one to show nervousness, and he to only a slight degree. When his sentence was read out he smiled as if he thought it would be a late day when he saw the inside walls of the penitentiary.

The reason it took the jury an hour to decide the case is because three of them wanted to acquit the defendants, and held to their opinions for that space of time. One of the jurors, in speaking of the three afterwards, said: "They must not have enjoyed good sense."

Some of the members of the Proximity Band have organized a Sextette Club and will soon be ready to render music for the churches.

The proximity base ball team are practicing for a match game Saturday evening, and the boys are taking more than usual interest in the game this season.

A most delightful occasion was that of a lawn party which was held Saturday evening on the lot adjoining the Episcopal church, of which Messrs. S. A. Stone, E. L. Blackwood, and E. S. Bures were the managers. All who took part thoroughly enjoyed themselves and will look forward to more of the same kind.

HAD NUGGETS OF GOLD.

A Gentleman Exhibits Several Nuggets from Guilford Mines.

Some time ago there appeared in The Telegram an account of the proposed opening of the several gold mines in the immediate vicinity of Greensboro. Since that time prospectors have opened up several of them, but as yet no great yield of gold has been found. Among the mines that have been pumped out, and more or less prospecting done in them, are the Fisher Hill, Deep River, Pentress, Woodburn, and the Lindsay. The Cambridge and Gardner Hill will be opened up in a short time. A gentleman was in the city yesterday and exhibited several small nuggets of gold which he said had been found in one of the mines. For many years the fact that gold, in more or less quantity, lay beneath the surface of Guilford county, has been known, but prospectors have heretofore been unable to realize anything from their knowledge.

Her professional debut will be made in one of the leading roles in "Quo Vadis," for which she has been engaged by Mr. Chase.

A SECRET CABINET MEETING.

MEMBERS IN WASHINGTON COME IN EVENING DRESS.

In Response to a Sudden Call the Members Who Were in Washington Hurried to the White House.

Washington, June 10.—In response to messages from the President sent this evening after an hours talk with the Secretary of State, all the members of the cabinet now in the city assembled at the white house at 8 o'clock this evening. There were five of them present. They came in evening dress. Secretary Long was accompanied by his little boy. The object of the gathering was not known, to the members of the cabinet, as the invitations to them simply asked them to call at 8 o'clock. Several of the members said the call was simply to pay their respects.

The meeting was suddenly called late this evening by messengers sent to the various cabinet members from the White House. The President and Secretary Long had been out driving, the Secretary being sent for by the President to join him in the drive. When the President returned, he found Secretary Hay awaiting him and the two spent half an hour together, the Secretary leaving later on a night train for Buffalo. It was immediately after this that the cabinet was asked to assemble, and they arrived within a few minutes of each other, about 8 o'clock, none of them being advised in advance of the object. Secretary Long brought his young son. Secretaries Long, Gage, Hitchcock, and Wilson, Attorney General Knox and Postmaster General Smith were those present. Secretary Root is in Buffalo, while Secretary Hay had left for the same place.

The cabinet immediately repaired to the cabinet room, where they remained less than an hour. They took occasion to express their gratification at the continued improvement in Mrs. McKinley's condition and also discussed another subject which none of them would disclose, each member saying that it was of a personal nature, and some of them giving out the negative information that the meeting had no relation to Cuba, China, the Philippines, the Boer war, the Porto Rico tariff, the Supreme Court decisions, or any important public questions. The President placed a personal injunction on each member to say nothing about the matter.

Several cabinet officers said that their calls had to do with Mrs. McKinley's continued improvement. Some announcement may be made later about the matter which was of either a social or personal nature, and chiefly concerned those present.

MACHINISTS IN TORONTO

International Association Decides to Extend Aid to Non-Union Strikers.

Toronto, June 10.—The International Machinists' convention today decided to extend financial aid to non-union men who went out with members of the association. President O'Connell said that the officials were not restricted as to what the non-union men received, but it would be sufficient to induce them to remain in the fight to the end. Since May 20, over $20,000 has been distributed among strikers and as yet no regular system of benefits has gone into force. A resolution was passed asking the American Federation of Labor to levy an assessment as provided for in their constitution to provide funds for the strikers. In the event of a long drawn out fight an appeal for aid will also be made to the trade organizations of Great Britain, who were assisted by the machinists in their struggle for an eight-hour day.

Regarding the question of finances, President O'Connell stated that a special strike fund amounting to over $150,000 was still intact.

The convention almost unanimously voted down a resolution pledging the association to socialism. It was also decided that a certificate of death from a Christian Scientist doctor would not be recognized in the future in a claim for death benefits.

The committee on laws has finished its labors. The constitutions of local lodges were adopted. The question arose as to the desirability of removing headquarters from Washington to some central point, Chicago or Cleveland being named. A decision will be made later. President O'Connell received word this morning that 23 firms in California had granted shorter hours and an increase in pay. Milwaukee is the favorite place for the next meeting and will likely get it.

Brevity is the soul of wit; with is the levity of the soul.

MAXIMS OF C. P. HUNTINGTON.

The great secret of success is lying by a nest egg and adding to your little store, never spending more than you make, and being strictly economical.

False pride is an enormous obstacle. I know young men in New York who would not carry a trunk along Fifth avenue for all the frontage they could pass, because they would be afraid that they might meet some girl they knew.

Another principle I have constantly obeyed is "business before pleasure." The chances are as good to-day as they were—they are even better. But I do not think that the life of one who has accumulated a hundred millions, more or less, is in the least inspiring. It dazzles, it bewilders the struggling youth. It may inspire him for a time, but that inspiration soon wears off.

Appreciate the value of to-day. That's my advice to young men. It has been my rule through life—I am nearing the century mark now—not to look forward, for the future is a blank. To-day is the all-important issue. I have never gone against the tide nor worried while my schemes were maturing. A farmer sows a field of wheat. To worry over it would merely sap his energy. The wheat requires his attention at the harvest.

In my mercantile life I have noticed the man who arrives at his post on time and not one minute later, and who leaves on the minute and not one second later. He does no more than he has to do and does not do that well. Then there is the man who arrives ahead of time and works late if need be. He takes an interest in his work and is anxious to be advanced. I have always lived within my means and always strived for advancement.

When I was a boy on my father's farm in Connecticut I worked hard, utilizing every moment, for there was plenty to do. But if I had any spare time I did chores for the neighbors. I never wanted for anything I needed! I always got it. But many buy things they do not need. When I went to New York in 1836 I had quite a sum of money, the result of my savings, judicious investments, and little tradings about the neighborhood.

I can now eat anything and have a new lease on life." Only 50 cents at C. E. Holton's drug store. Every bottle guaranteed.

A SPRAINED ANKLE QUICKLY CURED.

"At one time I suffered from a severe sprain of the ankle," says George E. Cary, editor of the Guide, Washington Va., "After using several well recommended medicines with out success, I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and am pleased to say that relief came as soon as I began its use and a complete cure speedily followed." Sold by C. E. Holton, druggist.

Mr. W. S. Whedon, cashier of the First National Bank of Winterest, Iowa, in recent letter gives some experiences with a carpenter in his employ, that will be of value to other mechanics. He says: "I had a carpenter working for me who was obliged to stop work for several days on account of being troubled with diarrhoea. I mentioned to him that I had been similarly troubled and that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy had cured me. He bought a bottle of it from the druggist here and informed me that one dose cured him, and he is again at his work." For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

A GOOD COUGH MEDICINE.
It speaks well for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy when druggists use it in their own families in preference to any other. "I have sold Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for the past five years with complete satisfaction to myself and customers," says druggist J. Goldsmith, Van Etten, N. Y. "I have always used it in my own family both for ordinary coughs and colds and for the cough following la grippe, and find it very efficacious." For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

Properly Married Now.

St. Paul, June 9.—Miss Emma Lovejoy, daughter of Postmaster Stephen B. Lovejoy, of Minneapolis, and Chas. Jewett Chapin of Milwaukee, have the distinction of having been married 3 times in one evening, twice by the same clergyman. The first ceremony was performed at the bride's home by the Rev. M. D. Sutton, pastor of the Church of the Redeemer. The young couple found too late that no license had been secured. They could not delay until next day, as their baggage had been sent to St. Paul, for which place they started, accompanied by Governor Vansant and wife.

On the way to the city the Governor decided to exercise his executive power and tied the nuptial knot for the second time to make the match more binding. When the party reached St. Paul a telephone message awaited them from the bride's father, requesting their return to Minneapolis. Mr. Lovejoy was not satisfied with the legal aspect of the case and had aroused the clerk of court and obtained a license. The couple returned and this time were united at the residence of Dr. Shutter. They left at once for the East.
